BLUEJACKETS TO BE IN G. A. R. PARADE

Secretary Daniels Promises Committee Two Bands and Big Detachment.

Two bands and one of the largest detachments of bluejackets ever detailed to participate in a local parade other than the inaugural pageants will be the Navy Department's quota in the coming G. A. R. encampment parade, according to announcement made by Col. George A. Hoxley, national chief of staff of the G. A. R., today. Colonel Hoxley is in Washington to complete preparations for the parade, which will be held in connection with the encampment.

The G. A. R. official made the announcement following conferences with Secretary of the Navy Daniels and other Navy Department heads. Colonel Hoxley was elated over the outlook for the coming encampment, as he prepared to return to his home in Boston, shortly after noon.

Secretary Daniels and everybody else here, in fact, is enthusiastic over the encampment. "Everybody is doing all in their power to make the affair a great success. The national chief of the parade will surpass that of all other G. A. R. encampments, if present plans carry."

Thomas Grant, secretary of the citizens' committee in charge of arrangements for the encampment, stated today that the Navy Department's contribution to the parade will be a big detachment of bluejackets, and a band of 25 men.

Bond Issue Necessary, Administration Fears

Treasury Situation Gives Officials Real Concern, As Loan, Except in Case of War, Would Be Serious Menace in Campaign.

The Treasury situation is giving the Administration real concern. It means, unless improvements result, that a bond issue probably will have to be made before the fiscal year ends. Naturally, the President and his advisers do not relish the notion of going into the Presidential campaign with a bond issue to be defended.

Obviously, there may be circumstances under which defense of a bond issue will be easy. Thus, if there is trouble with Mexico and a campaign has to be undertaken there, the country would regard a bond issue as a natural accompaniment. But if the country remains at peace, it will be easy for the enemies of the Administration to criticize the President and his advisers for failure to hold down Government expenditures.

The Treasury statement shows that the Government income and outgo are not satisfactory. The customs revenue thus far in the fiscal year, which opened July 1, is about $10,000,000 lower than it was in the corresponding period of the last fiscal year. Internal revenue and miscellaneous receipts, taken together, are also lower than last year. The internal revenue receipts, considered alone, are slightly above what they were a year ago, but it has to be remembered the war tax is in force.

The total deficit of the Treasury thus far is about $5,000,000 as compared with about $10,000,000 in the corresponding time in the last fiscal year.

On the face of things, this would not be a subject for serious concern. But the Government is confronted with the necessity of much heavier outlay for national defense. The war tax law, when it expires next winter, cannot be repealed without adding largely to the deficit. Consequently, it is supposed the Administration will have to ask Congress to extend it.

Pressure on Congress for big expenditures in many directions will be strong. The advocates of a liberal public building policy will be active next winter. There are rumors going to back water on the question of free sugar. Belief is strong in many quarters that it will do so. It will be embarrassing in the extreme to Secretary McAdoo to lose the revenue from sugar after the time fixed for free sugar to go into effect next spring. The pressure is already strong from sugar States to have the tariff retained.

What Is Grapefruit.
ST. PAUL, Aug. 12.—A grapefruit is not grape fruit and it is not grapefruit. It might just as well be considered grapes as grapefruit, because it is a pomelo. That's what the American Pomological Society here today decided.

Cocoanut Oil Makes
A Splendid Shampoo
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain multifoliated cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifoliated cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.—Adv.
